Yield, diversification, low volatility

Ecofin Global Utilities and Infrastructure Trust plc (EGL) is a closed-end investment company domiciled in the UK whose shares are listed and traded on the London Stock Exchange. The Company carries on its business so that it qualifies as an authorized UK investment trust. EGL invests primarily in the equity and equity-related securities of utility and infrastructure companies which are listed on recognized stock exchanges in European countries, the United States and other developed, OECD countries although it may invest up to 10% of its assets in companies whose equity securities are listed on stock exchanges in non-OECD countries. It may also invest up to 10% of its assets in debt securities, which are typically traded on over-the-counter markets.

Investment objective: The Company's investment objectives are to achieve a high, secure dividend yield on its investment portfolio and to realise long-term growth in the value of the portfolio for the benefit of shareholders while taking care to preserve capital.

Yield: The Company targets a dividend yield of at least 4% on net assets using gearing and, if necessary, reserves to augment the portfolio yield.

Gearing: EGL may borrow up to 25% of its net assets to earn a higher level of dividend income and to offer shareholders a geared return on their investment. The Company pursues a flexible gearing policy, borrowing in major currencies at floating rates of interest under a facility which allows the Company to repay its borrowings at any time without penalty.

Dividends

The Company distributes quarterly dividend payments of 1.6p per share, or 6.4p per share per annum. The first interim dividend was paid in December 2016; thereafter, quarterly payment dates fall on the last business day in February, May, August and November.

Manager's comments

- EGL's sectors continued to perform well in August as growth and politics troubled financial markets. The MSCI World Index declined by 1.6% (total return in £), led lower by emerging markets (-4.5%) and the UK (-3.7%), and bond yields worldwide accelerated their descent with trade tensions and downbeat economic data denting confidence that any forthcoming monetary and fiscal ammunition could be sufficient to avoid a recession. The outperformance of EGL's sectors highlights the absolute and relative strengths of long-duration infrastructure business models at the later stages of an economic cycle.
- The Company's NAV increased by 4.1%. In comparison, the MSCI World Utilities Index and the S&P Global Infrastructure Index rose by 3.7% and 0.8%, respectively. Sterling continued to be volatile but it closed almost flat against the US dollar and 0.8% higher versus the Euro over the month; its movements therefore detracted slightly from the NAV's progress.
- Strength was broadly based across the Company's portfolio with only a small handful of names not registering share price gains in August. The North American and Continental European exposures rose by 5.8% and 4.1%, respectively (in local currency), outperforming their local indices, and the small 'rest of world' portfolio rose by 3.7% due to good advances for Huaneng Renewables and Australia's Atlas Arteria. Renewables holdings – augmented by the reintroduction of Pattern Energy to the portfolio – performed especially well and yieldcos Pattern Energy, Terraform Power and NextEra Energy Partners were all among the best contributors to NAV. We had fully exited E.ON by mid-July and this proved protective as its shares have declined about 10% since then, significantly underperforming the sector's advance.
- There has been relatively little turnover in the portfolio so far this year. Leadership in our sectors has been fairly consistent and the portfolio, we sensed, was balanced and well positioned for the macro environment. As EGL's sectors have performed very well, dividend yields have declined and the historical yield on the portfolio, excluding leverage, is now 4.0%, compared with 4.4% as at 30 September, 2018 and 4.6% at the beginning of 2019. Gearing is at the lower end of the historical range at around 7-8%.

Key risk factors

All financial investments involve an element of risk. The value of your investment and the income derived from it will vary and there can be no assurance that the investment manager will be able to invest the Company's assets on attractive terms, generate investment returns for investors or avoid investment losses.

The Company focusses on investments in two sectors, the utilities and infrastructure sectors, and accordingly an investment in the Company's shares may be regarded as representing a more concentrated risk than the investment in the shares of a broadly diversified, generalist investment trust or fund.

The Company may employ gearing. Whilst the use of gearing should enhance the NAV per share when the value of the Company's underlying assets is rising, it will have the opposite effect when the underlying asset values are falling.

The Company invests to a considerable extent in securities which are not denominated or quoted in Sterling, the Company's base currency. Movements in exchange rates will, therefore, have an effect, favourable or unfavourable, on the return on an investment in the Company's shares.

Gearing

The Company may make use of gearing to enable the Company to earn a high level of dividend income and to offer Shareholders a geared return on their investment. The Directors believe that the use of gearing is justified given the nature of most of the companies in which the Company invests; that is, companies which provide essential services, operate in regulated markets and within stable regulatory frameworks, and pay dividends. Whilst the use of gearing should enhance the net asset value (NAV) per share when the value of EGL's underlying assets is rising, it will have the opposite effect when the value of its assets is falling. As a result, the volatility of the Company's NAV will increase when gearing is being used which may also increase the volatility of the Company's share price. The nature and term of any borrowings are the responsibility of the Directors, while the amount of any borrowings is at the discretion of the Investment manager.

EGL may borrow amounts equal to 25% of its net assets. Any borrowings will be flexible, short-term borrowings in major currencies at floating rates of interest under a Prime Brokerage facility with Citigroup which allows the Company to repay its borrowings at any time without penalty.
